SUMMER FESTIVAL AT COVENT GARDEN TO LAUNCH THIS JUNE

15th June 2021

- Summer Festival at Covent Garden will launch this June, bringing a Spritz Bar, street food concepts, daily music and live entertainment to the East Piazza
- It joins a summer of cultural programming in Covent Garden including a takeover from London-born artist Lakwena, live performances, cultural exhibitions and pop ups, with over 800 outdoor dining seats across 35 of the area's top restaurants

Covent Garden will bring the best of European summer to the centre of London by hosting the city's first ever Summer Festival at Covent Garden. Transforming the al-fresco heart of London, Covent Garden's new concept will take over the East Piazza bringing a Fever Tree Spritz Bar, Wimbledon screenings, daily live music, and a revolving selection of some of the capital's finest street food brands plus a Stella Artois bar. The Summer Festival terrace will open from 17th June on the iconic East Piazza.

Summer Festival at Covent Garden will welcome a foliage filled Fever Tree bar serving a curated Spritz menu, alongside a Parisian terrace themed Stella Artois bar serving premium beers and Aperitivo nibbles, with both hosting live masterclasses and appearances from London's top mixologists throughout the Summer. Seating over 200 people and running until end of September, the experience will include family friendly stages and screens to showcase live up-and-coming musical talent performances and daily Wimbledon screenings. London's top street food merchants will also serve up food delights for visitors – kicking off with STAKEhaus offering Mediterranean meats, tiger prawn surf 'n turf, hand cut chips, vegan 'lobster' roll and a whole lot more; as well as The Churros Shop offering classic churros topped with outstanding sprinkles and a touch of magic, and Instagram ready churros ice cream sandwiches. The Fever Tree bar will also donate £1 per serve to charity Malaria No More UK to combat one of the world's oldest and deadliest diseases.

Daily live performances from some of London's finest grassroots musicians, playing Jazz, Funk, Latin and Roots, will also bring the summer festival vibe to the heart of Covent Garden.

This entertainment experience will accompany Covent Garden's ongoing cultural programme including public art installations from London artist Lakwena, live open air performances from the Royal Opera House, Summer Piazza pop ups and more throughout the summer.

This summer the estate will also welcome Mrs Riot, a new all day cocktail bar, bistro and live music venue on Henrietta Street, as well Ave Mario, the latest Italian restaurant from the much loved Big Mamma group. It also continues to play host to over 800 outdoor dining seats across 35 restaurants including Petersham Nurseries, SushiSamba, Frenchie, Flat Iron, Ivy Market Grill, Aubaine,
